

VOL. 35, NO. 20

RHINELANDER, WISCONSIN, THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1917.

TERMS—$1.50 IN ADVANCE

MAY CALL ENTIRE
GUARD OUT SOON*State To Purchase Equipment
Government Cannot Furnish

It is expected orders will come soon for the mobilization of the remainder of the Wisconsin national guard.

Although the adjutant general's office is very reticent about the correspondence it has been having with Washington, it can be said Adj. Gen. Orlando Holway seems to believe that the entire national guard of the state will be mobilized within the next ten days, with the further order that it be placed on a war footing of 16,000 men, which the adjutant general believes can be done in short order.

The recruiting of the guard has been steady and Gen. Holway has assurances that there will be plenty of enlistments to put the guard upon a war basis when it is called to the field. More than this the state of Wisconsin is mobilizing the equipment of the guard so that it will not have to wait for requisition from the national government to equip the men for service.

Under the direction of Gov. Phil.ipp, the adjutant general's department has been carefully inquiring where it can get all sorts of military supplies at a moment's notice and what the national government cannot furnish at once, the state will undoubtedly purchase, so that the guard will be prepared to go into the field entirely equipped.

As to the raising of additional regiments when the call comes very little can be done until it is known in what way the call will come and how many men will be demanded from this state.

This much can be said, however, that Wisconsin is well prepared to meet any emergency that may come within the next few weeks in connection with the war.

It is likely no state in the union is making more careful preparation to meet the emergency than is Wisconsin.

NORTH COUNTIES ELECT OWEN

Northern Wisconsin has again decided an important state election as important perhaps as any held in the last decade. As official returns poured in from every county in the state, it early became evident that the northern counties would again turn the tide—a tide which Milwaukee newspapers have so frequently availed themselves of to announce the outcome of a state election as soon as they found out the result in Milwaukee.

Attorney General Owen has been elected to the state supreme court by a majority running between nine and ten thousand. Of the thirty-six counties north of a line running east and west thru the center of the state, Owen carried twenty-four with a majority of 10,500, more than the majority by which the election was decided.

AXEL WANTS TO FLY HIGH TOO

"Yes, my son, Clarence, is about to become a member of the United States aeroplane service and I only wish I was young enough to fly too," said Axel Lindgren to a representative of the New North. "Although I was born in Sweden I have been a true blue American for many years and nothing would please me better than to be of service to Uncle Sam in this war. However, I guess my high flying days are over."

Clarence Lindgren will receive his training in the aeroplane squad at Los Angeles, Cal.

Zene Stroppe, son of Frank Stroppe of this city, is at present in Florida where he is being trained in the aeroplane service.

ARREST COUPLE

Under-sheriff Charles Crofoot on Sunday arrested Mrs. Emma Gegie and Drago Kelly, who are residents of Escanaba, Mich. The arrest was made on information from Escanaba.

Mrs. Gegie and Kelly, it is alleged, have been living together in this city. The woman's husband is said to have been scouring the country for them and finally succeeded in locating them here.

They were arraigned in municipal court Monday and were bound over for trial in circuit court.

AGAIN THE AUTO
SEASON IS HERE*Many New Cars Will Be Seen
In Rhinelander This Year

With the advent of spring automobiles are again appearing on the Rhinelander streets in noticeable numbers. Although early in the season several new cars are observed. Local dealers report a large number of sales, but in most cases deliveries have not yet been made. One dealer stated Wednesday that a record breaking number of new cars will be seen here this year, many people who have heretofore paid autos little attention having caught the fever.

Now that the season is again almost here it would be well for all drivers to heed strictly the city ordinance governing the driving of cars. Keen attention to this ordinance will prevent accidents and also save drivers trouble. Chief Straub says that the ordinance will be rigidly enforced and no discrimination will be exercised when it comes to making arrests.

RAPID ARTIST IS ASTONISHING

The manner in which M. J. Klein is manufacturing landscapes in the show windows at Kolden's store has caused large crowds of interested observers to congregate in front of the store each afternoon during the week. Mr. Klein, who is an artist of great talent, paints pictures in oil before the very eyes of prospective purchasers, and his speed and dexterity with the brush, and the beauty of the subjects transferred to the canvasses have caused all to pause and watch his work. The pictures are on sale, and many of them are being taken by eager buyers.

GUN CLUB SCORES

In the Sunday afternoon shoot of the Rhinelander Gun Club at the fair grounds Schooley, Shepard, Reardon and Covey, broke 23 out of 25 and thus tied for high score. Dr. H. L. Garner's score of 20 brought him second place.

With the advent of spring great interest is being taken in trap shooting here and the Gun Club will no doubt show a steady increase in membership. Shoots will be held at the fair grounds Sunday afternoons throughout the season.

Mrs. Walk of Antigo was the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Urbank.

Up With The Flag!

By BURTON BRALEY

Up with the flag! Up with the flag!
Up with the flag we love!
Till its colors flutter from every roof
And merge with the skies above,
And our eyes shall fill and our hearts shall thrill
With the joy that is always new,
At the grand old sight of the red and white,
And the stars in a field of blue.

Let our flag unfurled to watching world
Be proof that we keep our trust,
That we take our part with a valiant heart
In a cause that we know is just!
Let it float on high, and if men must die
To keep it from blot or stain,
They shall meet their fate with souls elate—
They shall not die in vain.

For the flag still holds in its ample folds
The spell of its olden flame,
And our pulses leap and we burn down deep
With a wonderful, quenchless flame;
As the flag flings free for all to see
In the sweep of the wings above,
Up with the flag! Up with the flag!
Up with the flag we love!

PATRIOTIC PARADE AND MASS MEETING SUNDAY

Guy D. Goff of Milwaukee, former United States District Attorney, will be the principal speaker at the patriotic mass meeting of Rhinelander citizens in the Armory next Sunday afternoon. Mr. Goff is one of the most prominent lawyers in Wisconsin and is likewise an orator of rare ability. He has within the last few weeks addressed mass meetings in Milwaukee, Madison, Appleton and Janesville.

Mayor Grant V. Clark will preside at Sunday's meeting and will make the opening address. Other speakers will be Captain F. H. Himes of Company L and Richard Reed, veteran of the Civil War. There will also be a musical program, consisting of patriotic selections by the Rhinelander band and songs by Company L quartette.

Previous to the program in the Armory there will be a monster patriotic parade, in which, it is expected, over one thousand people will participate. Everybody with a drop of patriotism in their veins is urged to join in this procession.

The parade will form in front of the Armory at 2:30 and will be led by the Rhinelander band, fife and drum corps and Alex Michie, the famous Harshaw Scotch piper. Company L, all army and navy veterans, Boy Scouts, city officials and fraternal societies will be in line. The committee urges every citizen, whether or not affiliated with any of the above organizations, to participate in this big patriotic demonstration.

Through the business section the parade will wend its way and when in front of the Elks' hall on Davenport street there will take place a flag raising ceremony, which will be a most impressive event.

Show your loyalty in these stirring times by joining the patriotic parade next Sunday!

STRAUB ARRESTS
CHICAGO NEGRO*Chief Picks Up Wm. Thomas
Who Is Wanted For Robbery

William Thomas, colored, was arrested on S. Brown street near the postoffice by Chief of Police Straub Tuesday. Thomas is wanted in Chicago on a charge of robbery. Friday Chief Straub received a description of the man from the Chicago police, who stated that they believed Thomas was somewhere in northern Wisconsin.

Thomas drifted into this city on Tuesday forenoon and a short time later the chief had him in custody. The big negro submitted to arrest quietly and informed the chief that he would return to Chicago without requisition papers.

Wednesday, Charles H. Larkin, a Chicago detective, arrived here and left that day with his prisoner for Chicago.

With the arrest of Thomas Chief Straub added further to his reputation as a man catcher. Within the last winter he has rounded up many fugitives wanted for crimes in various parts of the country.

NOW ORGANIZING
4TH REGIMENT

Madison, Wis., April 7.—Adjutant General Holway has started building Fourth Wisconsin infantry regiment. Starting with separate infantry companies at Chippewa and Janesville as a nucleus, Holway has added three companies, one each at Platteville, Waukesha and Milwaukee. The completion of another company at Milwaukee was announced last night. It will be made up of Police and commanded by Civil Judge M. F. Blensky. It is certain that the following towns will contribute companies to the fourth regiment, Antigo, Waupaca, Shawano, and Menasha. Each new company as it is formed will be placed in the fourth regiment, regardless of its location. As soon as the fourth is completed Holway will start work on the fifth. When he has completed two new infantry regiments he will then plan to redistribute all the companies in the five regiments.

KNIGHTS HERE FROM ANTIGO

Sunday afternoon a large number of the Antigo Commandary Knights Templar, were entertained by Rhinelander Knights Templar. The visitors arrived in this city on the afternoon Northwestern train and from the station were escorted to the Masonic Temple. All were attired in uniform and made a spectacular appearance.

From the temple the Knights proceeded to St. Augustine's church where they listened to an able sermon by Rev. Hinton, pastor of the Antigo Episcopal church. The day's program was brought to a close with an elaborate banquet at the Hotel Onida. The entire occasion was thoroughly enjoyed and will be long remembered by both the visiting Knights and their hosts.

The Knights wish to express to Father Gray and his choir, their most hearty appreciation of the many courtesies so freely shown them during this Easter service.

The visitors were Sir Knights Goodrick, Hurless, Klemen, Hanson, Horien, Hinton, Kramer, Girtle, Welch, Willard, Smith, Burton, Morse, Steffen, LaDuke, Gorham, Knott, Barnes, Bright, Thayer, Angell, Hay, McArthur, Lightbody of Antigo; Chas. Fish of Elcho, and W. A. Brandt of Clintonville.

THOUGHT HAFNER WAS PRESIDENT

Little Joe Anderle, son of Ex-Mayor Fred Anderle, was with his mother in Gary & Danielson's store the other day when he suddenly stopped and gazed with wonderment upon one of Rhinelander's prominent gentlemen who was making some purchases of a clerk. Tugging his mother's coat the little fellow asked her in an awed whisper, "Mamma, is that President Wilson?"

The gentleman who was thus mistaken for the nation's chief executive was Al. Hafner.

Joe, who is a wide awake youngster, frequently sees the President's picture in the newspapers and evidently found a strong resemblance between him and the fourth ward alderman.

"HOME GUARD" IS ORGANIZED HERE*Full Company Is Expected To Be Secured Within Short Time

With the start which Rhinelander's "home guard" received at its organization Monday night there is every indication that the company will grow rapidly. Filled with patriotism fifteen prominent citizens immediately became members of the new guard and others have since joined. That a full company will be completed within a short time is the expectation.

The "home guard" will be drilled twice each week, former officers of Company L being in charge. Equipment will be furnished by the government as soon as the company has attained the necessary membership.

WILL BE TRIED FOR LARCENY

Mike Lakachewich, who on complaint of Martin Van Roy was arrested on a larceny charge, pleaded not guilty at his preliminary examination in municipal court Tuesday forenoon and was bound over to circuit court for trial. His bonds were placed at $1000 and as he could not provide this amount he was confined to the county jail.

Van Roy, the complainant, states that Lakachewich, and a companion, who managed to escape, relieved him of about thirty dollars in money and some personal effects after enticing him into a lumber yard on the north side. Van Roy asserts that he was kicked and pounded until he was unconscious, and the men evidently left him for dead.

Lakachewich's companion is still at large and has probably left the city.

COUNCIL GIVES SALARY RAISES

At the regular April meeting of the city council Friday night the ordinance relating to the increase in the salaries of policemen and firemen was passed. The increase also effects employees at the city pumping station.

The salaries of members of these departments as they now stand are: Chief of Police $80 per month. Assistant Chief, $75 per month. Patrolmen, $70 per month. Chief Fire Dept., $90 per month. Captain, $75 per month. Truck Drivers, 1st year $65, 2nd year, $70, 3rd year $75. Firemen, 1st year $60; 2nd year $65; 3rd year $70. Chief Engineer $75, other men employed at water station $70 each.

TABOO WIRELESS

All amateur wireless stations operating in the United States have been ordered out of commission by the government. This is done as a precaution against possible secret war messages, flashed through the air from government stations, being caught by enemy spies.

In this city a few high school boys have been experimenting in wireless telegraphy and have had communication with many distant stations. The boys are now compelled to take down their equipment.

ARBOR DAY

According to the governor's proclamation, May 4th has been designated as Arbor Day for the state of Wisconsin.

No Arbor Day manual will this year be issued by the State Department of Public Instruction. Every school should, however, have a copy of one or more former annuals from which programs for this year's observances may be taken.

LARGE CROWD AT BALL

Company L's annual ball Easter Monday night proved the usual big success and was attended by one of the largest crowds to ever assemble in the Armory.

The music by the Military orchestra was exceptionally good and the dancers enjoyed the latest numbers until the early morning hours. The company boys feel much gratified for the patronage.

SCRIPPS FOR WAR TAX

E. W. Scripps, millionaire newspaper publisher of San Diego, Saturday telegraphed President Wilson as follows: "I strongly urge that we should pay as we go in the war with income and inheritance taxes. All incomes of over $100,000 a year should be conscripted. The minimum cash pay of soldiers and sailors should be not less than $3 per day during the war. Such legislation would cost me much more than half my present income."

NEARBY TOWNS NEWSY NOTES OF

Washburn—

As a result of the election only two towns in Bayfield county remain in the wet column and these were saved by the "skin of the teeth." They are Iron River which went wet by 6 votes and Barnes which went wet by 4. Bayfield reversed herself this year and went dry by 15. Nash, the drink fountain on the Ashland road, went dry by four votes.

Ladysmith—

The Wood Products Co. sustained another serious fire loss Thursday noon when one wing of the enameling building, was destroyed. This is the same building that was destroyed by fire in January and rebuilt. The fire started from an overheated oven and at the time several men and girls employed there were eating their dinner in the same room. As soon as the fire started it was discovered and attempts were unsuccessfully made to put out the blaze with hand extinguishers while others were getting the hose and calling for water. Lack of pressure resulted in giving a very poor stream of water and the fire was soon beyond control.

Tomahawk—

The Tomahawk Toy and Novelty company is remodeling the old Bradley barn, which is to be used for a temporary factory and will install the machinery as soon as it arrives. J. W. Arney, manager of the new company, is moving his family to the city from Grand Rapids. He will be assisted in the factory by Gilbert Booth, of Seymour, Wis., who is also moving his family here, and Emil Christensen, of Grand Rapids. It is expected that other help will be secured locally, thus making a notable addition to the industrial enterprise of the city.

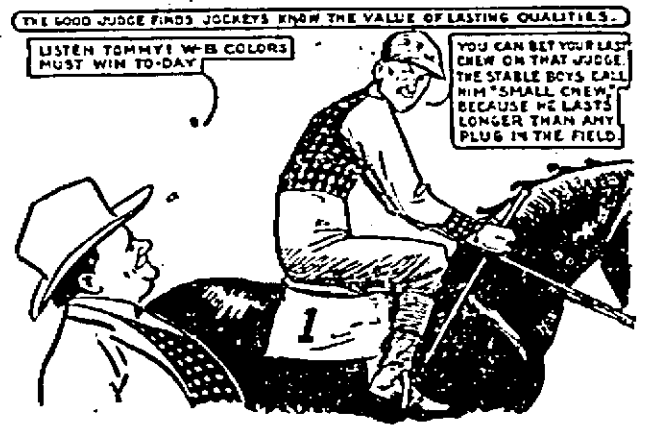

Park Falls—

On Wednesday morning the Park Falls Lumber Co. awarded to Fred Mohr of this city, the contract for the construction work on from thirty to fifty new houses which will form the nucleus of the company's new "White City" to be located opposite the company's lumber yards at the north end of First Ave. Several weeks ago the company called for bids on this work but later decided to take no definite steps until the local option election had been settled and the contract was not awarded until the day after the election. The contract calls for the construction of thirty houses on plans somewhat similar to those already built in Riverview Addition. The new houses are to be completed and ready for occupancy by August 1st.

Mr. Marshall received such a strong lead in Milwaukee and some of the other southern counties of the state that he was declared elected, but the majority in the northern counties have overcome this and Attorney General Owen has a lead of nearly ten thousand with practically all counties reporting.

Walter C. Owen served in the State Senate two terms and has been elected Attorney General three terms.

We supported him for justice and justice in his election to the supreme bench.

HIGHWAYS ARE DISCUSSED

"If you wish to develop your county, you must develop your roads," declared Attorney W. V. Silverthorne of Hayward to nearly 200 delegates attending the third joint road school. "When you build a mile of road, you are laying the way for the development of a quarter section of land. Road building increases the value of property adjacent to it."

"There is more wealth under your soil than there is in the mines of the Gogebic range. In order to bring this wealth to the service, you must construct roads. Before you can clear the land you must get to it, and to dispose of your farm products after it is cultivated, roads are necessary," declared Mr. Silverthorne.

INVEST IN NEIGHBORS

"Get acquainted with your neighbor—you might like him." This is the slogan of many of the successful farmers' clubs that the Wisconsin Agricultural college is organizing. There has been a departure from the old times when everybody knew everybody in the neighborhood. It seems, however, that there has always been some need of more neighborliness; even the ancients commented upon the matter. An old farmer of the times of early Greece wrote: "Invite the man that loves thee to a feast....and especially invite him that dwelleth near thee." Cato gave the same advice:

"Be a good neighbor. If the neighborhood regards you kindly you will find a readier market for what you have to sell, you will more easily get your work done, either on the place or by contract. If any misfortune should overtake you, which God forbid, they will protect you with kindly interest."

"There isn't much left for the man without neighbors."—Country Gentleman.

LUTHER BOOSTS THE INSTITUTES

"Service and results" is the objective point of all of Wisconsin's farmers' institutes.

To the end that this summer's institutes may be planned to meet this season's greatest needs, Superintendent E. L. Luther has just made this announcement:

"We will endeavor to aid farmers' clubs, cooperative organizations, marketing and producing associations of Wisconsin, who seek the solution of some local problem, and who need special help."

"The department is ready to make arrangements at any time for special one-day institutes in cooperation with local communities. To get the most lasting benefit from such meetings, however, there should be one or two definite problems to thrash out, and no more. A wide variety of farm subjects tends to make such special meetings of little moment."

Examples of what these special one-day institutes have done are plentiful. Local potato organizations have been formed in several places in the central part of the state at such institutes, and the start of a strong cow testing association was recently made at a special testing institute at Clintonville. Poultry clubs and enthusiastic baby beet and sheep centers have been started at these conferences.

Mr. Luther has not made any arrangements for summer institutes at present, but is planning to accommodate as many communities as desire such field meetings during the growing season, when crops and live stock can be seen and studied at their best.

NO MORE MAIL FOR GERMANY

Instructions have just been received by Postmaster Stapleton from the postmaster general which place an absolute embargo on all mail matter destined for Germany. Mail for Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria, Luxembourg and Turkey is likewise interdicted, because it is and has been sent via Germany. Post-offices are forbidden to receive any such mail and if sent without the knowledge of local officials must be sent to the dead letter office for disposal.

It follows from the foregoing that all money order business with the German empire is suspended. Orders from Germany dated there on or after the 6th of April will be declined payment.

On account of the many unusual duties to be imposed on the postal service because of the existence of a state of war with Germany, all leaves of absence to postal employees without pay are revoked and they are directed to report for duty. Hereafter none will be granted except on account of sickness or for military duty.

BADLY HURT BY FALLING PULLEY

Everett Hixson, who is a son-in-law of Jas. Hanchett Sr., this city, lies in a precarious condition in St. Mary's hospital as the result of injuries sustained by the breaking of a pulley on a log jammer near Montico, Tuesday. Mr. Hixson was struck by the falling pulley, fracturing his skull and breaking his arm.

The injured man was rushed to this city for surgical attention. His wounds were found to be very serious and it was at first believed he could not live. It is announced to day that he will probably recover.

JOHN CARLSON PASSES AWAY

Blood poison caused the death of John Carlson at his residence on Mason street Friday afternoon.

Deceased was forty-eight years of age and had made Rhinelander his home for several years. He was highly esteemed by a large number of friends and deep sympathy is expressed for the widow.

Monday afternoon Rev. C. J. Silfversten of the Swedish Lutheran church officiated at the funeral services which were held from the residence.

DIES AT AGE OF NINETY YEARS

The remains of Mrs. Pauline Patton, who passed away Monday evening at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Charles Emden, in the town of Pelican, were taken to Medford for interment this morning.

Mrs. Patton, who was over ninety years of age, resided at the Emden home. She was considered one of the oldest residents, if not the oldest, in Oneida county. Her death was due to the infirmities of advanced age.

WORK NEARLY FINISHED

The work of remodeling the interior of S. D. Nelson's grocery store on S. Brown street is nearly completed. Decorators are now putting on the finishing touches. The store is double its former size and is very attractive.

ORDER INDIANS TO PLANT MUCH

The superintendent on the Lac du Flambeau reservation has received the following telegram from Cato Sells, Indian commissioner. The same message was sent to the superintendents of all Indian reservations in the United States:

"War situation makes it imperative that every tillable acre of land on Indian reservations be intensively cultivated this season to supply food demands, particularly wheat, beans, potatoes, corn and meat."

"Quickly secure good seeds on best terms obtainable and submit vouchers for approval; call farmers and leading Indians together immediately for organized, united effort under your continuous direction."

"This is of the highest importance and requires aggressive action. There must be no delay in anything required to insure results."

"Telegraph what may be expected and report progress."

"THE UPWARD CLIMB"

Beginning next Sunday, April 15, the pastor will deliver a series of sermons on the general topic: "The Upward Climb." The first sermon of the series will be a setting forth of the principles of the higher life. In other words, A Vision of the Heights. The sermons of the morning of the 15, 22, and 29 will be the last delivered by Mr. Hext as pastor of this church. He will greatly appreciate a large audience. Everybody come out and hear these last sermons and help fill the church. Bring your friends. Strangers in the city are welcome. Service opens at eleven o'clock. No evening service. Bible school at ten a. m.

FLAG PRICES GO UP

The demand for American flags, following the declaration of war against Germany, has been so great that the national emblem has within a few days become almost a luxury. Small flags have become so scarce that many dealers say they are unable to fill large orders. Prices have already gone up 40 per cent.

SOIK CASE POSTPONED

The case of Mrs. Martha Soik, charged with conducting a house of ill repute, was postponed indefinitely in municipal court on account of the illness of the defendant.

This time the charge against Mrs. Soik was made by a boarder at her house.

Charles Kibben returned Tuesday from his trip to Illinois.

Jack Bolger was here from Minocqua today.

Miss Frances Lowell, who spent the Easter vacation at home, left Monday night to resume her studies at Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, Ill.

BASE BALL DANCE

A base ball dance will be given at Gilligan's hall on the night of April 18. The proceeds will be used toward the expense of a base ball team. Heinie's orchestra will furnish music.

Dreaming of an Absent One.

To dream of grieving over the absence of anyone is said to be a sure sign that the person you dream of will soon return, and with friendliness or love grown all the stronger through absence. But to dream of rejoicing at anyone's absence means that you will shortly receive news you would rather be without.

Reducing the Household.

Some little folks were playing "keeping house." Robert was papa, Jane mamma. After much difficulty in managing so large a brood, Papa Robert finally burst out with: "Say, there are too many children in the family—one of you will have to be the dog!"

FOR THOSE FOND OF SALADS

Here Are Six Recipes, Affording Variety That Is Needed in These Preparations.

Plain Cauliflower Salad.—Boil a nice cauliflower and break up into flowerets; serve very cold with French dressing.

Beet Salad.—Boil some beets and cut into dice, add salt, pepper, a little oil and vinegar, and let them stand an hour; then arrange in piles on plates and add a tablespoonful of capers and as many cut-up olives and serve with mayonnaise.

Fish Salad.—Pick up any cold cooked fish or use canned salmon, arrange it in a pile in a dish with quarters of hard-boiled eggs, alternating with lemon quarters around the edge and mask the fish with mayonnaise.

Orange Salad.—Take large, seedless oranges and cut into slices; arrange in a circle, the edges overlapping, and put a walnut half in the middle of each piece. Watercress may be arranged in the center of the dish or not, and put French dressing over all.

Banana Salad.—Cut bananas in halves crosswise and lay on lettuce or by themselves on a flat dish. Sprinkle well with chopped peanuts and serve with mayonnaise dressing.

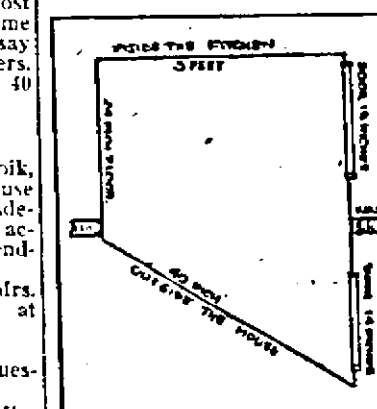

Peach Salad.—Drain canned peaches and wipe dry; put a spoonful of mayonnaise made with cream into the middle of each one. Apricots may be used instead of peaches.

BUILT-IN BOX FOR KITCHEN

Takes Up Little Room, and Is Most Handy Receptacle for Necessary Wood or Coal.

I am sending a simple plan for a wood or coal box in the kitchen—one that will save many steps, as well as muddy tracks across a freshly scrubbed floor.

Leave an opening in the kitchen wall 3 feet square. Then make a box inside

3 feet high, 3 feet long, 2 feet wide. Six inches from the back make a cover or door 19 inches wide. Put together with hinges.

Now, for the outside: Top, 20 inches wide; length, 3 feet; diagonal height, 40 inches, and 6 inches from the back make a door 14 inches wide. Paint or varnish to match the woodwork. Paint the outside like the house.—Mrs. Ruth Crawford in Farm Progress.

Arithmetic of Mixing Bowl. There are a number of fixed proportions used in all recipes, and the following are standard:

One-half as much liquid as flour for muffin and batter cakes; one-third as much liquid as flour for soft doughs as for biscuit.

One-fourth as much liquid as flour for stiff doughs as for bread.

One-third to one-half as much butter as sugar for all butter cakes.

One to one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder to a cupful of flour for batter doughs.

One-third as much shortening as flour for pastry.

One teaspoonful of soda to one pint of sour milk.

Spring Colds Are the Worst

They lead to catarrh and pneumonia. They weaken the entire system and leave it unable to resist the sudden changes. They interfere with your digestion and lessen your activity. Neglected they soon become that dread disease known as systemic catarrh. Don't neglect them. It's costly as well as dangerous.

PERUNA Will Safeguard You

Have a box of Peruna Tablets with you for the sudden cold or exposure. Tone your system up with a regular course of the liquid Peruna, fortify it against colds, get your digestion up to normal, take care of yourself, and avoid danger. If you are suffering now begin the treatment at once. Give Nature the help she needs to throw off the catarrhal inflammation, and again become well.

Peruna has been helping people for 44 years. Thousands of homes rely on it for coughs, cold and indigestion. It's a good tonic for the weak, as well.

New York Hotel Man Gives Up Lucrative Bar Trade

Can a New York hotel, one of the real hotels that are a part of the life of the city, of the spirit of the thousands who come here for a holiday, be operated successfully without a bar? Frank Case, proprietor of the Algonquin for the last fourteen years, says "Yes," and feels sufficiently sure of it to apply the only real test. He has closed his bar and it will stay closed.

He announced his intention to a group of friends at the hotel the other day.

"Why?" asked one of them after they had recovered from their astonishment.

"Well, there's one reason right there," replied Case, pointing to a small boy crossing the hotel lobby with a bunch of school books under his arm, on his way to the elevator to go to the family apartment upstairs. "That youngster is my own son, just coming home from school. I have decided that I don't want to pay his school bills and the other costs of bringing him up on the profits from booze. I guess that's my chief reason, but there are others.

"The bar got too profitable last year or probably I would not have thought of this thing. It never had amounted to much previously. It wasn't a real business asset as a bar for stand-up drinking by the people who ran in from the street for the sake of drinking and nothing else, but only a source of supply for the people who live in the house and want wine or cocktails or highballs at luncheon or dinner. That was all I wanted it or intended it to be. I did not give the personal attention to the profits from it that I would to the profit on a poached egg.

"But something happened to the bar in 1916. I had a new man in charge of it and he went in for business. He got it. At the end of the year the figures showed that my net profits on the bar alone had been $10,500. Now, I like to make money as well as the next man. That is what I am in the hotel business for. I am not a prohibitionist nor a temperance missionary, and I have no right or desire to interfere with the personal liberty of a patron of my hotel. Nevertheless those figures made me sick. I had to admit to myself that I was a rum-seller and that is something I don't want to be. I am a hotel keeper and believe that a distinction can and should be made between the two jobs. I am going to make it.

"Of course, I'll have to admit that it has taken me three months to come to the scratch, because a human being hates to let go of ten thousand a year as a matter of sentiment before he is sure he can make it up somewhere else. I don't know yet that I can make it up, but I'll have all that barroom space for extra dining room or some other purpose."

"Oh, well, it's your business to do as you like with," remarked one of the listeners who seemed to be a bit skeptical. "But you'll have what satisfaction there may be in being the dry pioneer in the wettest hotel town in the world. And you'll have followers if you wait long enough. When that boy of yours whom you don't want to educate on rum profits grows up there won't be any alcohol snafus for him to look out for. It will be something else, but it won't be rum. Prohibition can't get the start it has got in so many states, backed up by the 'bonedry' bills at Washington, with out hitting New York eventually."

BATTLING H. C. OF L.

Don't call around next fall looking for sympathy or bemoaning the soaring prices of foodstuffs if that back yard of yours or that vacant lot to which you have access is allowed to run to weeds instead of being made to produce vegetables this summer. Because in a ring battle between Consumer and High Cost of Living the latter don't stand up against the "garden blow"—it is the biggest sleep producer in the consumer's collection of punches—and a fellow who won't go into training so he can deliver that knockout deserves to be knocked through the ropes himself.—Exchange.

His Compromise.

"You shouldn't have spun your top again, Robbie. Mollie can't say her prayers with it humming away like that." "That's all right, mother. It's humming a hymn."

Would Rather Draw Sympathy.

If we could read the secret history of our enemies, we should find in each man's life sorrow and suffering enough to disarm our hostility.—Longfellow.

LET THE BIRDS DO YOUR WORK

Before long we will sow our crops and as soon as they begin to come up, there will be millions of insects ready to destroy them. In order to save these crops, you must pick off the insects, boys, the work that nature provided for birds. We are now living in days of science and intelligence and have learned the value of birds to agriculture and therefore must protect the birds and try to increase their number.

Now is the time to build homes for your little friends, and show your appreciation for this great work they are doing, which would otherwise be left for you. Build a bird house, put it in your garden or close to it, let the birds do the work and you be the boss. The birds will destroy the insects and you will get better crops and more of them. Then you can say to your father, "I have a remedy to reduce the high cost of living."

Birds are not all alike. They want their homes built different. For instance, a little house wren wants his door not any larger than a twenty-five cent piece—and no smaller than a five cent piece, about 3 1/2 inches from the floor and on a pole about 15 feet from the ground. There the Martin likes to live in colonies and wants a house with many rooms. The door should be about the size of a dollar and the house high up in the air. Pictures of model bird houses can be seen on a poster at the Public Library.

READY TO FIGHT

Friday night Postmaster Matt Stapleton sent to President Wilson a telegram in which he stated that he is ready to resign his position and take up arms in defense of his country. He also stated that he believed the women of the country should do the postal work while the men should go to war.

To a representative of this newspaper Mr. Stapleton said that he is ready and willing to go to the front just as soon as the president should say the word. He feels that in resigning his position and fighting for his nation he would be only doing his duty as a good citizen.

RENTS SUTLIFF FARM

John Gooden has again rented the S. D. Sutliff farm in the town of Woodboro and will work the same the coming year. This is one of the largest farm tracts in Oneida county and according to Mr. Gooden contains 250 acres cleared. He intends to put in a large crop this spring. Mr. Gooden departed Tuesday for LaCrosse to visit relatives and friends of boyhood days.

WANTS MARKET DAY

Hayward held a meeting the other day and the mayor addressed a large crowd of citizens on the subject of a market day for the city. Such a day is to be held once a month. Details will be arranged as soon as possible.

Hayward and every town in Sawyer county went in the dry column at the last election.

ences as follows: He wired some days ahead in order to be sure of getting a room; but when he arrived there was no room. He went to two other hotels, but all in vain. So he had to return to the train and sleep in a car which was really too cold for him. He spent a large part of the next day hunting for hotel accommodations. He finally landed in a little boarding house near the quays. The gentleman next went to Sandnes, where there was no room to spare in the hotel. This time he was permitted to spend the night at the Aulgaard factories.

A new building is going up at Hillevaag. It is to be used as a factory for turning out a new kind of fishhook. From prehistoric times to this day the barb, or beard, of the hook has been placed on the inside of the point of the hook. August Thoring came to think that the barb would catch better if it were on the side of the hook. He made a number of hooks and had them tested, and the reports were to the effect that fewer fish got loose from the new hooks than from the old ones. This settled the matter. The inventor had his fishhook patented in a number of countries and now a company, backed by ample capital, is to manufacture the Thoring fishhook on a large scale.

King Olav Trygvesson was the founder of the city of Trondhjem, which for centuries was known by the name of Nidaros (the mouth of the Nid river). Now it is proposed to erect a monument to him at the public market place. Dyre Halse, a wholesale merchant, has donated $13,500 to the monument fund as a starter. All Norwegian sculptors and artists have been asked to prepare sketches for the monument. One thousand three hundred and fifty dollars will be given as premiums for the best sketches, and a select few will be bought at the rate of almost $200 apiece.

Between 300 and 400 Swedes are engaged in the building trades in Bergen. Work is more plentiful in Norway than in Sweden at the present time. It is expected that many more Swedes will come to Bergen by the time the work of rebuilding the burned portion of the city is started in dead earnest. The people of Bergen are never in a hurry, but when they finally make up their minds to start they will be sure to do things, and do them thoroughly.

Even the jailbirds testify to the cosmopolitan character of the Norwegian capital, the number of nationalities represented running from half a dozen to a dozen.

BUY A FLAG NEXT SUNDAY

"Do Your Bit," buy a flag at the armory, Sunday, April 15. The services rendered by the young ladies who sold the flags and the loyal public who bought them last fourth of July was greatly appreciated by the Flag committee and members of Company L as the receipts furnished a considerable contribution to the private treasury of the company. The patriotic committee, which has charge of the mass meeting and patriotic parade for next Sunday, the fifteenth, has decided to sell flags for the parade in the same manner as last summer. A score of young ladies have volunteered to sell the flags. The price will be not less than five cents a flag or as much more as you desire to pay. This is a small service individually but taken collectively means a good deal. Flags will be on sale at 1:30 p. m. Parade will start at 2:30 p. m. and every citizen is expected to appear and carry the national emblem. With the loyal support given last 4th of July we rest assured of a grand success.

Respectfully yours,
AUGUST CARLSON,
Flag Committee.

SCANDINAVIAN NEWS

SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS IN FAR OFF NORTHLAND.

ITEMS FROM THE OLD HOME

Resume of the Most Important Events in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—Of Interest to the Scandinavians in America.

DENMARK.

Denmark's precarious situation regarding fuel, which heretofore has been almost exclusively imported from England and Germany, has led to the introduction of a bill to exploit home resources, forests, peat bogs and limited deposits of lignite coal. The measure provides that owners not working these most intensively must turn them over to the government to be so worked and authorizes compulsion to enlist necessary labor and the use of troops. The country has been on the verge of a fuel famine for two months and only the most stringent restrictions as to the consumption, including early closing for business houses and restaurants, has enabled it to tide over the crisis without shutting down lighting plants and street cars.

The final act of more than fifty years' effort to bring the Danish West Indies under the American flag was completed with formal ceremonies at the state department recently when Danish Minister Brun was handed a treasury warrant for $25,000,000, the purchase price, and wireless messages were sent to the American and Danish authorities at the islands to lower the Danish flag and raise the Stars and Stripes. With the formal transfer the islands become known as the Virgin Islands of the United States. Rear Admiral James H. Oliver was named as governor of the islands.

The Danish government has not replied to the inquiries from Washington regarding the admission of armed American merchantmen to Danish ports, but the indications are that it will follow the example of Holland in barring them. The American minister, Dr. Maurice Egan, has had several conversations on this subject with the foreign office, but has not cited a precedent which the Danish authorities regard as adequate to justify reversal of the present policy.

Norway, Denmark and Sweden practically have recognized the Russian democracy by entering into relations with the new government.

SWEDEN.

The king accepted the resignation of the entire cabinet headed by Premier Hammarskjöld. The Swedish ministry resigned March 5, but King Gustaf requested the ministers to retain their offices, which they consented to do temporarily. The resignation on that occasion followed a defeat of the government in getting only $2,700,000 instead of three times this amount, for which the cabinet asked from the riksdag. Carl Johan Gustaf Swartz has been requested by King Gustaf to form a new cabinet. Mr. Swartz was minister of finance in the Lindman cabinet from 1906 to 1911. In politics he is a Conservative and chairman of the riksdag budget committee. The new premier is a large factory owner, is chancellor of the Upsala university, a member in the directorates of various banks and is considered a high authority in financial matters. The commission to Mr. Swartz to form a new ministry may undoubtedly be taken as an indication of the king's desire to see the present state policy continued along substantially the same lines as heretofore. How the Liberals will regard his appointment is not yet known, but Hjalmar Branting, the Socialist leader and editor of the Social Democrat, has given notice of open war from his party if an attempt should be made to form another Conservative ministry. The Liberals have not produced any real leader since the death of Karl Staaff, and the Social Democrats have never been eager to take over the responsibilities connected with forming a cabinet. This made Mr. Swartz the best candidate for the premiership under the present circumstances. King Gustaf's offer of the premiership to Mr. Swartz means a new epoch in the political history of Sweden. It is the first time that an out-and-out business man has been selected for the position. The war with all its complicated economic problems, even for neutrals, has taught Sweden, the necessity of business-like government, from the top down.

Smallpox has broken out in northern Sweden and strict precautionary measures have been taken in many industrial centers.

It is true that one of the chief aims of Sweden's trade policy after the war will be to increase the Swedish ocean tonnage. But the demand for freight-carrying steamers will be so great that there can be no danger of competition with Norway, which possesses one of the world's leading merchant marines. The Scandinavian nations have seen that it is possible to overcome many prejudices if good will be shown on both sides and the unity, now prevailing, will probably stand the hardest tests in the future.

FINLAND.

In the present war many prominent Finlanders have been deported to Siberia, but in spite of all the wrong done by the Russian government, the Finnish nation has been absolutely loyal to Russia. The Finlanders never have listened to the tempting words of German agents, who have tried to start a revolt in Finland, thus menacing Petrograd in the rear. The Russian revolution seems now to be ready to give Finland the reward for her loyalty—full autonomy. If this policy is carried out in the right way, there is no doubt that Finland, with her old culture and developed industries, will play an important part in the new Russian republic. The Finlanders are democratic and this will make them especially adapted to the new regime in Russia. The fate of Finland has demonstrated to the world that a nation, filled with a real patriotic spirit, can never be subjugated. The Finnish patriotism has won the sympathies of all the civilized nations.

Leaders of the Finnish party have agreed on a new senate of 12 members as Finland's supreme executive. Six are Social Democrats, the largest party in Finland, and the others are the old Finnish party, the Young Finnish party and the Swedish Popular party. The new government has also organized a judicial department excluding reactionary officials with Russian associations, appointing instead the country's best jurists.

The tremendous change, brought about in the situation of Finland, is best illustrated by the fact that Judge Svinhufvud has been appointed to be attorney general of that country. Judge Svinhufvud has been known as one of the strongest opponents of the Russification of Finland, and at the beginning of the war he was therefore exiled to Siberia by the government of the czar.

PAUL BUNYAN

Eagle River, April 9, 1917.
Editor, New North,
Rhinelander, Wis.
The enclosed poem was composed by a bunch of youngsters at the B. C. Garage, Eagle River. As Gene Shepard is the originator of the Paul Bunyan stories the poem was dedicated to him.

Very truly yours,
H. J. OBERHOLTZER,
Ode to Paul Bunyan
Tune: America
Dedicated to "Gene Shepard
Sweet land of Can-a-dee
My fondest memories
Of thee I sing.
Land where Paul Bunyan died
Oh, how the boys all cried
He was our greatest pride
Our Boss and King.
The winter of blue snow
Paul Bunyan logged you know
The big white pine.
Bull cooks on roller skates
Served us with blue ox steaks
While little blue snow flakes
Came drifting fine.
Bean soup we had galore
Right at the shanty door,
Made in the lake.
It took some bacon then
To feed ten thousand men
Oh, give to us again
A ton of cake.
We had a dandy cook
A big contract he took
To keep us fed.
Twelve acres of pancakes
He undertook to make
He made a big mistake
And now he's dead.
Ten men you couldn't beat
With pork rinds on their feet
To grease the pan.
They skated to and fro
You couldn't see them go
You really wouldn't know
They were human.

DEMAND BACK PAY
The latest group of British prisoners returned from Germany to London includes three "dead" soldiers, that is, men who were long ago officially reported dead and have been so entered in the records of the war office. For a fortnight the three soldiers have been paying daily visits to Whitehall in an endeavor to persuade the government that they are alive and entitled to collect their back pay. The war office declares they are dead as far as the payrolls are concerned and must remain so. Only a special grant from parliament can improve their situation.

LITTLE CHATS ABOUT POULTRY

(By G. E. Conkey)
"How many of the chicks hatched out are going to be raised successfully" is the big question in the mind of the poultry raiser. If he's experienced in the science of poultry keeping, he will realize that his own efforts in the way of good care will play a very important part in answering the question satisfactorily.

Good care means, in large measure, prevention of disease and proper handling of the lice question, but in this article we will consider good care aside from these features.

With the many varying conditions and with so many ways in which chicks can be handled, and good results still be obtained, set rules are not easily applied and good judgment must therefore be exercised at all times.

When chicks are raised in the natural way with hens, fewer mistakes are liable to be made in the care of the chicks, still, early in the season when there is much bad weather, too much must not be left to the hen because she cannot supply all the care that is needed. Many early hatched chicks are lost through failure to give them suitable quarters where they will have plenty of room and can take advantage of the sunshine. Small chicks are far better off indoors when the weather is not pleasant. Later on in the season, or when the chicks are of some size, running outside will be invigorating, but it is best to work on the safe side at all times and take no chances of chilling the chicks.

Sometimes the chicks from two hatches are given to one hen for raising and this works nicely in warm weather, but do not try it until after the 1st of May because in cool weather one hen cannot cover more than fifteen chicks right and quite early in the season ten chicks is all a hen can look after.

Let the mother hen care for early chicks just as long as she will do so and until the chicks are well feathered have some means of protecting them on cool nights. The proper ventilation of their house or coop, however, must always be watched carefully.

Chicks must be made to exercise freely at all times, and except when there is a good range, a portion of the feed should be given in a litter. Plenty of feed and plenty of work to go with it is what makes good hardy chicks.

When it comes to raising chicks artificially, troubles naturally increase. Not only is the matter of brooding added to the poultryman's cares, but the greater number of chicks kept together increases the possibility of mistakes.

Chicks are often overcrowded in the brooder, or run, to such an extent that their growth is checked, in many cases a week or two, and if conditions are not improved they are rendered quite worthless. When you buy a brooder, be sure the manufacturer has not overestimated the capacity of the machine for this is commonly done. It is much better to be sure of the chicks having the required room than to chance their being harmed thru overcrowding. Don't forget that the chicks need more room as they grow and they will not continue in their development and keep healthy unless they have ample room.

Overfeeding is another common mistake with chicks, especially those closely confined, and many complaints can be traced to this cause alone, where the chicks start out well, do well the first week or two and then go all to pieces, and die off in large numbers. Where overfeeding is occurring you will probably notice that the chick's crop is still full of food in the morning, that it is less active and is indifferent about eating. This is the time to act. Reduce the feed and scatter anything suitable in deep litter to make the chicks work. Special care should be taken with moist food that too much be not given at a time.

Before the coming of such time as the chicks can get out and pick their own green food, something in the way of succulent greens is needed to balance their feed and you will find it pays to give greens once or twice a day after the first week.

With housed or closely penned chicks, don't try to economize on floor litter because they need exercise in abundance and a large part of their living must be secured thru hard work. With plenty of litter the chances of overheating will be greatly lessened.

Give your chicks all the heat they require and don't let them waste their energy in keeping warm. A thermometer bulb at the height of the chicks' head, is none too warm for the brooder, the first week. This will make the chicks comfortable and there will be no reason for crowding. The actions of the chicks themselves will tell you when the heat is right for them and then only are they contented. As the chicks grow the brooder temperature is reduced about five degrees a week. All brooders ought to be arranged so that the chicks can move to or from the heat at will and it might well be added that there must be some provision for a gradual change of air.

COMPANY L RECRUITING TO FULL WAR STRENGTH

Within the last few days a number of recruits have swelled the ranks of Company L and it is expected that there will be little difficulty in the company reaching one hundred and fifty men, minimum war strength. The New North was informed by an officer last night that the company now numbers one hundred and twenty-two men. It is the ambition of the officers to reach the one hundred and seventy-five mark before the company is called out.

Every able bodied young man in Rhinelander, who is in a position to do so, is urged to become a member of Company L, which is rated as one of the best companies in Wisconsin. The call to duty is expected at any time and it is hoped that all who intend to join the company will not wait until the last minute to do so. Join now and receive the benefit of the course of drilling which recruits are receiving.

WILL CITY HAVE BASE BALL TEAM

Early next week the base ball fans of this city will hold a meeting for the purpose of discussing the proposition of organizing a base ball team. Many cities in this part of the state have already placed teams in the field and there is no reason why Rhinelander should lag behind. There is plenty of local talent in Rhinelander to form a good base ball organization and there should be no difficulty in perfecting a team.

A strong base ball team is a big factor in advertising a town as a live spot on the map. Get in line, fans, and see that Rhinelander is not without the great national game this season.

LEAVE FOR CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Morris McRae and son, Allan, left the first of the week on their trip to California where they will make their future home. They will visit with relatives in Minneapolis where Mr. McRae will meet them and continue on to the coast. This family takes with them the best wishes of a host of old friends in Rhinelander.

CRANDON WANTS COMPANY

An effort is being made to organize a company of Infantry at Crandon and a number of young men have pledged themselves to serve in same. Thirty-five have already signed the enlistment pledge and there is every prospect that with assistance from nearby towns a full company will be completed.

KEEP THESE IN THE MIND

Small Things, Some of Them, but They Will Be Found of Value to the Housewife.

Teacups with broken handles are useful for poaching eggs. Butter the inside, break the egg into the cup, and stand the cup in the frying pan half-filled with water. It keeps the egg a good shape when poached, easy to slip onto toast, and is cleaner than poaching in a frying pan.

A most excellent way to use ashes is to mix them with about an equal quantity of small coal, and then well damp with soapy water—any suds you happen to have—the more soapy the better. A fire made up with two or three lumps of coal, well banked with this mixture, lasts a surprisingly long time.

The scorch mark is one of the most difficult of all to deal with. Here is a good mixture for removing it: Boil together two ounces of soda, two ounces of fullers' earth, half a pint of vinegar, and a finely-chopped onion for ten minutes. Strain the mixture, and when cold spread a little on the mark, and allow to dry. Then wash in the usual way.

Gold and silver lace and trimming soon get tarnished. Try cleaning this way: Take a stale loaf and rub the inside to make crumbs, and mix with a half-pound powdered blue. Lay this plentifully on the lace and rub gently until it becomes bright. Then take a piece of clean flannel and dust the crumbs well off. Finally rub the lace gently with a piece of velvet, and it will look as bright as when new.

Most housewives boil the household's supply of milk before use, and some burn it, too. The latter annoyance will never occur if a little water, about an inch deep, is first rapidly boiled in the saucepan, and the milk then added.

Firm jellies are favorites that often fail to set to perfection. Stand the mold in a basin of water containing a good handful of salt and soda. A mild freezing mixture is the result, and even on the hottest day a firm, cool jelly will be the reward.

Cold joints have a habit of appearing on the table very dry and hard, especially during warm weather. This will not happen if, after the joint has been first cut, it is wrapped, when cold, in a moist serviette, and placed in a darkened meat safe with a dish cover over it.

SUSPICIOUS MIND

Wife—This is a good old world after all.
Hubby—Humph! What scandal have you heard now!

Bridges in History.

The only mention of a bridge in the canonical Scriptures is indirectly in the principality of Gesbur, a district to the northeast of the Sea of Galilee. At this place a bridge is said to exist still which is called by the Arabs "the bridge of the sons of Jacob." The Romans are credited with being the first constructors of arched bridges over streams.

To Remove the Mote.

When traveling one should always bear in mind that cinders are apt to find their way into the eyes. An eye cup, a lotion for bathing and a few farreeds should be included in your package. A boric acid solution will be found soothing for eyes that are inflamed from dust, wind or foreign matter.

Metal Long in Use.

Tin was known to the Hebrew metal workers as an alloy of other metals as early as the time of Moses. There was no tin in Palestine. Their tin in the time of David was obtained from Tyre and Tyre was supplied by the ships that traded with Tarshish. This tin came from Spain, but doubtless the greater quantity came from the tin districts of Britain.

Worry List.

A worrying woman once made a list of the possible unfortunate events and happenings which she felt sure would come to pass and be disastrous to her happiness and welfare. The list was lost, and to her amazement, she recovered it a long time afterwards, and found that not a single unfortunate prediction in the whole catalogue of disasters had been realized.

How Spain Got Name.

Spain, etymologically, means Rabbit Peninsula. The word is, according to good authority, derived from the Punic Shafan-rabbit. This animal has been very numerous in the country, often destroying whole crops. African ferrets were kept to drive the animals out of their holes. We find the rabbit often represented on old Spanish coins.

Our Neighbor's Burden.

If a little fairy should appear and make visible the load every mortal carries, some startling discoveries would result, and our sympathies and charity broaden.—New York Evening Sun.

Optimistic Thought.

Folly taxes us four times as much as congress.
